Fire Destroys Ridges Motel, Cafe, Homeless Families Aided By Community

Fire destroyed a motel at Oak Ridges early Monday morning. Three families who had apartments in the second storey of the building, lost all their possessions. The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nichols was rescued from the fire by the boxer, Matt Kirk, who ran through the flames to the baby's side.

The property was owned by William Stunden. He had advertised it for sale recently at a price of $100,000.

Firemen from Richmond Hill, Aurora and North York were able to keep the flames from spreading to a row of tourist cabins. The firemen ran out of water during the fire and were forced to pump from a small stream several hundred yards from the scene of the fire.

Eight persons were forced to flee from the building by the fire. The only fatality was a small pup.

Oak Ridges and Lake Wilcox communities began the work of assisting the homeless before the ashes were cool. A story on page 5 tells what has been done and what is being done to assist the three families who had been living in the building.

His hair singed from the flames, Matt Kirk ran into the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Nichols and pulled their baby daughter, Judy, from the crib. He carried the baby to Mrs. Geo. Oswald who was waiting in the hall. Mrs. Nichols had been outside hanging up her washing when the fire occurred. She was just going in to the building when Mrs. Oswald came out with her child.

The fire broke out in the Oswald apartment. Kirk was on his way up the stairs to see Mr. Oswald who managed a number of amateur boxing bouts for him.

"I never stopped to think," said Kirk. "I knew the baby was in that apartment and I went in after it. Flames were coming up from the floor only ten inches away from the crib."

In an apartment on the main floor, Henry Lee, Wong Gee and Chuck Wong, proprietors of the restaurant, carried out furniture. Expensive stoves and other equipment in the ranch-style restaurant were lost.

Poppy Day To Be Held Saturday Funds Held For Temporary Aid

Poppy Day will be held by Legion branches in Newmarket and Aurora on Saturday, Nov. 11. Children will be on the streets in both towns to sell a poppy to everyone.

According to Maj. N. P. Keliey, secretary of the Newmarket Legion, Poppy Day funds are kept in the home branch. The money is used for temporary emergencies among veterans or their families. Wreaths are also sold and they are manufactured by disabled veterans who make it their living.

The funds from Poppy Day are held by the branch and a voluntary committee decides when the money is to be used for temporary emergencies. Aid has often been given to stranded veterans who are out of work temporarily. Transient veterans who are without money and travelling to a new job are often given meals, lodging or transportation. Veterans' widows are given temporary aid until further relief is available. Many pensions or funds available from the government for destitute people take weeks or months to reach those persons in need and the Poppy Fund acts as temporary relief.

In Aurora, the town council voted $150 to the Poppy Fund.

Two Brigades Save Farm Home In Dawn Fire

Members of two fire brigades were routed out of bed in Monday's cold dawn by a call to the home of Col. F. H. Dunham on Yonge St. north of Davis Dr. The fire caused extensive smoke damage to the interior of the house and damage to the roof and south wall.

The fire was discovered by Herb Dunham who called the night telephone operator before running to the house to awaken the occupants. The operator, Miss Annie Tunney, called the two fire brigades and aroused the neighbors. "We owe a lot to her prompt service," said Mr. Dunham, "and to the prompt, early arrival of neighbors who helped fight the blaze and take furniture out of the house."

The fire call came about 6.15 a.m. The Newmarket brigade was first on the scene. They had exhausted their 250-gal. tank on their truck and were drawing water from a well when the Holland Landing brigade arrived with a 1,000-gal. tank on a second truck. The extra supply of water is credited with stemming the fire.

Col. and Mrs. Dunham were asleep in the house when the fire began and had been aroused by the smell of smoke about the time their son discovered the fire.

Fire Destroys Cottage At Lake Wilcox

Fire completely gutted the interior of a one-storey frame cottage owned by a Toronto man, Joseph Hudik, at Lake Wilcox early Tuesday afternoon. Estimated damage amounted to $1,500 or more, according to fire chief Bert Cook, Richmond Hill.

Unoccupied at the time, the blaze was well advanced before Richmond Hill brigade arrived. It was thought that the fire originated in a bedroom floor. Boarded windows helped confine the blaze inside the building. A refrigerator was rescued but was badly scorched.

A neighbor constructing a nearby cottage told the fire chief that no person had been near the building during the forenoon. When he returned after dinner the flames were breaking through.

Drama Club Production Packs House Two Nights

The Newmarket Dramatic club's play, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads", held a "sell-out" performance last Friday night and Saturday night's show also drew a nearly full house. The play will go on for a Keswick performance, sponsored by the Keswick Optimist club November 17.

Members of the club say that it was one of the most successful productions the club has seen. The audience at both performances indicated their enthusiasm by hissing and applauding at the proper times during the burlesqued melodrama. (See Commonwealth Round, page 7.)

ATTEND OPENING

Mr. Linton, who was welcomed by Archie Murray, president, officiated at the prize draw and congratulated the large crowd of citizens on the growth of the town's business section.

Three In Hospital, One Critically Hurt In Queensville Crash

Three men are in York County hospital and two women were allowed to return home after treatment following a two-car collision on the third concession, two miles north of Queensville, last night at 6.45.

Injured were:

Kenneth Sutton, 22, Toronto, critically injured; Ronald Stoddard, 23, Toronto, badly shaken up; Louis E. Rollings, Queensville, badly shaken up.

Mrs. Rollings and daughter, Marie, were treated for cuts about the legs and shock.

The two cars, both recent models, were reduced to little more than scrap by the impact of the collision which hurled the Rollings car across the highway and turned it upside down in a ditch. The accident occurred after the Rollings car had stopped for an engine adjustment. The second car, driven by Stoddard and also travelling south, swerved into the Rollings car when its driver was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car.

The injured were taken to York County hospital by Strasser's ambulance.

Chief Constable Joe Jardine and Constable Crone, East Gwillimbury, are investigating the accident. No charges have been laid.

Renews Council Action On Smoke Control, Effectiveness Doubted

"Why hasn't anything been done about this smoke by-law?" asked Deputy-Reeve J. L. Spillette at Newmarket council meeting Monday night. The by-law, which had been drawn up in September while the deputy-reeve was away at a mayors' and reeves' convention in Western Canada had not been read in council. A resolution by Mr. Spillette to bring in the by-law had been passed earlier. Preliminary readings and discussion were finally settled by council Monday.

Copies of the by-law are to be sent to owners of premises which the by-law would affect before the final reading is passed. "We didn't want to do anything about this in your absence," Mayor Joseph Vale told the deputy-reeve.

Although the by-law applies to any source of dense smoke except private dwellings it is generally assumed that restrictions are directed against factories, soft coal heating plants and some oil furnaces which give off black, oily particles. Housewives in some areas of town have complained about having to re-wash clothes soiled by smoke smudge. Lawn furniture, awnings, house paint and even vegetables in their gardens have been smeared with the smudge, they say.

Equipment for factory stacks can be installed but it is said to be expensive.

Newmarket Leads Way, Sanitation Department's New Packer In Service

Last week Newmarket's new Saniyan packer garbage truck went into service. The packer was purchased by Frank Johnston who is under a special five-year contract to collect all garbage in town. Lorne Paynter, chairman of the council's committee for garbage disposal, said Newmarket is the only town among others comparable in size which has such equipment in its sanitation department.

The packer van together with a new truck chassis cost $10,000. The town has agreed to change Mr. Johnston's yearly contract to a five-year contract with an increase of $1,000 to make it $9,500 per year. He employs two men.

Besides being more sanitary than the former open truck, the new van confines garbage to a smaller space making easier disposal. Machinery inside the van grinds and packs all refuse under 20,000 pounds pressure. The machine will flatten out tin cans, everything except metal bars. Mr. Paynter said that there will be less space required at the dumping grounds for refuse from now on.

Councillor Paynter, chairman of the garbage committee along with Chas. VanZant, introduced a proposal last May for a packer truck but it was defeated. They brought it to council later and the proposal was accepted.

Mr. Johnston has had the contract for garbage collection and disposal since the municipal service was started in 1947. George Byers, former member of council and chairman of the same committee had introduced by-law 985 which was passed June 23, 1947, providing a municipal garbage collection system.

Every family in Newmarket pays 60 cents a month for garbage collection. During the past few months there has been a reserve of funds from the garbage financial.

Horse Gains Freedom, Falls, Breaks Neck

A black Percheron work horse valued at $150 met instant death when it bolted through a transport rack at Oak Ridges. The horse broke its neck in a fall to the pavement of No. 11 highway at the King sideroad intersection late Tuesday afternoon. Two other horses were scratched as they fell from the truck when the rack gave way from the force of the excited Percheron. Belonging to Joe Levison, Temperanceville, they were being transported from north of Barrie to the Levison farm two miles west of Oak Ridges. The animals had made the trip to Oak Ridges in good order.

Allan Connor, Snowball, and Mr. Levison, sitting in the cab seat, were jarred as the animals suddenly plunged forward. The vehicle had slowed to a near stop to turn west on Yonge St., Mr. Levison said. He could not account for the sudden action of the Percheron.

MOUNT PLEASANT

The heavy snowfall on Saturday has left the roads slippery. Sorry to hear that Miss Helen Stiles has been out of high school owing to illness.

Many others in the district are ill. Seems to be an epidemic on the move.

The weather is a never ending topic of conversation and I assure you Mr. Weatherman gave us just about everything this past week as a sample of what the weather can do! As I sit here Saturday, Nov. 4, looking out to see has it stopped snowing, there are trees loaded with heavy snow
and the bushes bent down to the ground with the weight of it.
Maybe the farmers will rejoice to see it, I wouldn't know! But, without a doubt, the hunters will think it was just what they ordered! It seems they can track a deer more successfully after a snowfall. (I nearly spelled that dear. Oh dear! What if I had?
—wouldn't I have received a box-ful of mail about my mistake!)

Now I have sort of drawn a herring across my trail, and I was all ready to launch out into a diatribe about what the weatherman has been doing for us—
or rather to us, this past few weeks. You all know as well as I can tell you what the weather has been, so I'll spare you my opinion, only let me say this:
who would have thought that last Wednesday we had it up between 75° and 80° degrees and flowers were still blooming gaily
in our gardens? Oh, was I ever pleased that I picked my last chrysanthemums yesterday and shared them round with others who had none. I kept one jarful
for myself and I have been gloating over them and loving every single stalk of them all morning.

Suppose I leave the subject of the weather and make this article one of my old-time Pot Pourri ones. For you see so many things are happening, grand things, delightful things—and everyday ordinary things that one enjoys doing so much more when we have such weather as nature has treated us to this past month.

Really, Ontario and Newmarket have been blessed! I mean it literally, for we have surely been blessed here, when we look at the rest of the world: war in the Far East; hurricanes and cyclones; typhoons and storms at sea, to say nothing of floating mines to harass shipping in other places; terrible floods in Oregon;
storm after storm along the Pacific coast, specially Vancouver and Vancouver Island. But I didn't intend this to be a resume
of adverse weather conditions
when I started, for I must say never have I seen such a lovely October as we have had and November, too, up to today.

Maybe this is "squaw winter"
and we will have "Indian summer" to follow. I told you, a few weeks ago, of being up to Georgian Bay over the weekend,
and how delightfully warm and sunny it was, and how folks all along the beach were in swimming and speed boats were rolling along, having a wonderful time. The week before, we took a drive up to Lake Simcoe and it also was a wonderfully warm day and the speed boats were having one last (as they thought) fling, but no, we have had plenty more lovely warm days since.

But I am leaving out what I still have in mind, about happenings here in our dear old town
of Newmarket. For instance, those of us who were up to the official opening of the new Prince Charles public school and who hadn't been inside before,
same as myself, must have had the surprise of their life! It is truly like magic what can be done
nowadays; and all honor should be given to Murray, Brown and Elton, architects, and the Aurora
Building Co. who, under John Bowser, general contractor,
brought the work to such a successful conclusion.

Our woman's editor, Mrs. Caroline Ion, will no doubt tell you all about it in this week's issue,
for I sat beside her. If anyone goes into raptures describing it,
let me assure you that I would be doing the same if I were telling about it and I'd be justified!
If you haven't seen it for yourself, believe me you'll be delighted with everything. You won't see the lovely baskets of chrysanthemums that were sent from different firms, etc., for the official openings and maybe the Hallowe'en decorations will have been taken down, but nevertheless, you'll "get an eyeful" as they say these days.

That delightful kindergarten
room if nothing else—why, it makes you wish you were a
"small tyke" again and a pupil
at the new Prince Charles school
up on Srigley St. hill in the Connaught Garden district!
Please, Mr. Editor, may I have a little more space for I can't let this occasion pass without complimenting everyone connected with the first offering of our new famous Newmarket Dramatic club! We were there last night (and incidentally was the

Inspect 5,554 pupils
During September
York Health Unit Says

All of the elementary school classrooms in the municipalities which are members of the York County Health Unit were inspected by public health nurses of the unit during September. In the September report of the unit, issued last week, a total of 5,554 pupils enrolled in 170 classrooms were inspected.

The report said that during the month, the unit began school
health service, periodic inspections of dairies, milk producers,
and restaurants, and other phases
of its program as well as progressing further with its organization. Shortage of public health nurses was a handicap, the report said, and it was hoped that some addition to the public nursing staff will be available soon.

The report also records an enthusiastic reception of the unit
from community leaders, officials and representatives of the member units. "The people at large appear genuinely interested in the health unit," the report states.

No Outbreaks
No serious outbreaks of any diseases occurred within the unit
during September although there were some outbreaks of mumps and widespread influenza-like illness of short duration. Most of the activities of the nurses
during September were concerned with school health services. A start was made on an annual sanitary inspection of school premises. Fifty-one pupils were excluded from school because of pediculosis, 30; acute communicable disease, one; and skin infections, 20.

A total of 269 visits was made to homes by the nurses.

A department of health sanitary engineer made several inspections of municipal water
plants, sewage disposal plants,
locker plants and dairies during the month. Much time was devoted to answering complaints about nuisances, usually in regard to defective septic tanks and tile beds. Tests of samples of milk taken from dairies within the health unit show the general need for improvement in the quality of the milk being sold to the public, the report

Promise Federation
Financial Support At
At East Gwill. Council

The regular monthly meeting of East Gwillimbury council was held in Sharon hall Saturday, Nov. 4. The members were all present.

The afternoon was mostly taken up by delegations from various societies. Representatives from the Federation of Agriculture requested that the council give a larger grant to the society. Mr.
Robert Knights, chairman, and Mr. Max Newroth, secretary, of the East Gwillimbury division
made the appeal stressing the importance of more finances to further the cause of the farmer.

Each member of the council expressed his willingness to co-operate and stated if they were in the 1951 council they would give the federation their support.

The council decided to hold the court of revision under 57A of the amendment act on December 9 at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

The municipal board made certain recommendations in regard to the building by-law and the amending by-law was presented to the council. It requires all building lots to be 15,000 square feet. The council objected to the amending by-law because two sub-divisions are up before the department of planning and development for their approval.
The council is of the opinion that snow ever coming down as we came out. My sides fairly ached with laughing—and I feel as if my lips are still curled up from smiling when I wasn't laughing! The scenery, to start with, was just wonderful and when the train went across the stage we gazed in wonder! It made the realistic locomotive sounds too, and no mistake! It was a melodrama in three acts of the gay nineties and Joe Dales, by the way, was the villain and who came out first to introduce the play, suggested we applause the heroine and hiss the villain, the way they did in those days and it was comical to hear the audience hissing at the appropriate times. Each player was perfect in his part and the barbershop quartet entertained with old time songs between acts and we all joined in the chorus!

Watch for the account of it in Common Round.

Oh! there goes the snowplow
if I'm not mistaken, or maybe it is the tow truck! This snow will no doubt end the work of remaking our roads. The children will be glad it did not come Hallowe'en—I wonder if it had,
would it have put a damper on the youths who shot out 200
electric light bulbs in our street lights!

Last Wednesday, on the first day of November, we piled the kids into the car and with two other couples and their children, had a picnic on the hills overlooking Holland Landing. We were out until an hour or so after the sun had gone down, and then strolled back to the car in the atmosphere of an August evening.

On Saturday, we had to dig out the toboggans and sleighs from the accumulation of trunks and barrels in the basement so that the children could enjoy the first fall of snow. Has there been a more bewildering season than this? Summer in November followed two days later by a January snow fall.

We are registering here a change of heart. We had been in favor of mass entertainments for children on such occasions as Hallowe'en. But after last week, no longer. The delays of last Tuesday's program are not alone responsible for the conversion, but they did emphasize the flaws in what is, to our way of thinking, now an undesirable trend.

The first Hallowe'en program was arranged by a committee of the then newly-formed recreation commission following a Hallowe'en in which property damage was counted in the thousands of dollars. We were a member of the committee. The theory was that by providing entertainment and a controlled outlet for Hallowe'en spirits, property damage could be reduced and children kept off the streets.

The committee arranged a program for the public school children and a dance for the teen-agers and when Hallowe'en damage was counted on the morning after, it was gratifyingly low. Newmarket, incidentally, was one of the first municipalities to provide such a program. The practice is now general.

We wonder now, however, if it was a good thing. Certainly,

The laws under which sexual perverts are tried are admittedly antiquated yet they remain on the books. Society is given, at the best, only a temporary protection from these offenders. They are sent to jail for a limited time, and then released to prey again upon women and children in the darkness of city streets.

A Toronto man was sentenced to six years for attacking three little girls in a public park. It was his 11th conviction for such an offence. His record began in 1915. He had been convicted in six Canadian provinces. It was his fourth conviction in Ontario.

"This is the worse case it has ever been my duty to preside over," said County Judge Shea in sentencing the man. He was given six years, the maximum under the Criminal Code. "I wish it could have been life," he said.

Judge Shea was echoing the sentiment of other judges before him. How useless it is to sentence sexual perverts to limited terms. Society is given only a temporary respite from their attention. Some of these offenders can be cured, but the law makes no provision for curing. Society should be protected from the others, but the law lets them go free when their sentence is served, and they strike again before the law can restrain them once more. What a foolish, vicious situation this is. How much longer will it continue?

By way of postscript to the above, Toronto papers on the weekend were headlining the search for a man who had attacked a seven-year-old girl in Toronto township. The case was described as the most brutal in the township's history. Police believe that the attacker is the same man who has been terrorizing other children recently.

YES, BUT IS HE A GOOD ASSESSOR?

The Brampton-Peel Gazette carried a front page editorial last week in which the county assessor was criticized. The editorial said the assessor was a farmer by profession and perhaps knows farm values very well, but is at loss when it comes to the valuation of urban and business properties.

The editorial, as might be expected, aroused a strong feeling of indignation and protest among county councillors who rushed to the defense of the assessor. None was more emphatic in his reply than the reeve of Streetsville, Dr. G. A. Montemurro. Said he: "Practically every great man in our country came from the farm. I personally move a vote of confidence in our assessor."

HEALTH UNIT WELL UNDERWAY

The staff of the York County Health Unit has led a busy life since the unit was duly authorized by order-in-council on July 13. Elsewhere is a condensation of the report of the unit for September and the volume and variety of calls speaks for itself.

Newmarket has in the last five years had the services of a public health nurse, Aurora for a shorter period. Both municipalities have had active boards of health and medical officers. Most of the services the health unit provides in these two municipalities are not new to the citizens there, but in one or two phases, there has been an increase in the scope of health protection. To some of the rural areas, all of the health unit's services are a new experience. As the report mentions, reception to these services has been most encouraging.

The willingness of Dr. Robert M. King, director, and members of the unit to explain and interpret the purpose of the unit's service has been a large factor in this. Of first importance, however, has been the general recognition of need for public health supervision, and a willingness on the part of member municipalities to provide it for their citizens.

On November 11, the people of North York will again pay the tribute of two minutes of silent remembrance to the fallen of two wars. There will be ceremonies at memorials. Wreaths will be laid. The wistful notes of the bugle will echo across the silence. It is good, this remembering. It sanctifies again the fallen in the hearts of those who live. In the silence, we are called to examine the propositions for which they died.

There is a suggestion, frequently enough to be common to all services, that the dead have won their fight, that the torch has been carried to victory. In our prayers, we speak of past battles won, of causes

THEIR BATTLE NOT YET WON

On November 11, the people of North York will again pay the tribute of two minutes of silent remembrance to the fallen of two wars. There will be ceremonies at memorials. Wreaths will be laid. The wistful notes of the bugle will echo across the silence. It is good, this remembering. It sanctifies again the fallen in the hearts of those who live. In the silence, we are called to examine the propositions for which they died.

There is a suggestion, frequently enough to be common to all services, that the dead have won their fight, that the torch has been carried to victory. In our prayers, we speak of past battles won, of causes

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

brought to successful conclusion. We are thus encouraged to false hope. For the battles in which they died have not been won; the final victory still eludes us. Those who fell in two wars do not lie alone.

Wars have not the finality of death. From one comes the next. In the first, the seeds are sown for the second. The opponents may change; the excuses differ. Only the fundamental issue remains, the issue of freedom, the issue of humanity, the issue of life for the living, rest for the dead.

While we honor those who fell in two world wars, their sons are dying in what yet may become a third world war. We have not asked that this be. We have not sought the challenge. We fight now, as we fought in the second decade of our century, and in the fourth, to preserve those institutions dearer to us than life itself.

Let us, this November 11, accept the logic that the battle is not yet won, and will never be won until all men walk in the same dignity. Let us, in our tribute to the dead, be sure that the torch they handed us will remain held high until at last, their cause is finally won.

YEARS OF GROWTH AHEAD

Two items on the front page of last week's issue of 'The Era and Express are significant indications of what the future holds for Newmarket and Aurora, in fact the whole district. The first was a report of Newmarket's increase in population to a total of 5,036. This is an increase of a 1,000 in something like five years.

The other item was a report on building in Aurora where permits have been issued for the reconstruction of 34 new homes, four stores, a factory building, and 17 garages and sheds. The total value of this new construction, material evidence of population growth, exceeds $300,000.

The increased population of Newmarket, the extensive construction of Aurora, are broad signposts of the growth both municipalities may expect in the future. Newmarket and Aurora are ideally located in relation to the Toronto area: they are far enough away to avoid city taxation yet close enough to permit ready access to Toronto markets. They are far enough away to provide home-makers with the amenities of small-town life; close enough to permit city employment.

The present trend towards decentralization of industry and population is strengthening. The amalgamation threat is hastening the exodus of city dwellers. Both centres can anticipate an accelerated growth for years to come.

Yet is to be questioned whether this growth should be too enthusiastically encouraged. Both centres face heavy expenditures in the maintenance and improvement of existing civic services; too rapid growth will aggravate the cost of meeting these obligations. In the same light, the fortunate position of Newmarket and Aurora permits them a certain amount of choice in the manner in which they expand. They need not encourage an industrial location simply for the sake of enlarging the advantages of employment and tax revenue. Both centres can choose those industries which will give the towns the greatest advantage in diversity and employment conditions.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Newmarket's population exceeds 5,000 and Aurora has set a new record in the amount of construction undertaken there. But word of this ambitious growth has not yet penetrated the coverts and glades of the surrounding countryside. Deer still feel free to browse in Eagle St. gardens and the skunk is a regular visitor. Rabbits can be found a gunshot from the town limits and muskrats still swim the Holland River.

Remembrance Day is a voluntary observance and perhaps that is the reason why the two minutes of silence is so frequently ignored. Those who carry on their pursuits when the bugle has blown are shaming themselves and shaming the dead of two wars. Two minutes of remembrance is not much to ask.

Councillor Charles VanZant in last week's issue of the paper warned householders not to be taken in by salesmen claiming to be government inspectors of one sort or another. A footnote to this warning can be found in the County Free Press Herald where there is a report of a court case in which a widow charged that a chimney repairman said he was from the "government". The charge of fraud against the repairman was dismissed for lack of evidence but not before the crown attorney claimed "the whole situation reeks".

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

Officials of the Cuttin Corners Sasparella Co. and the East Thimbleberry Bottling Works met with Mayor McTear and a retired milk price arbitrator yesterday in an effort to settle what may develop into a price war between the community's two biggest carbonated beverage concerns.

The mayor made no comment to your favorite cat correspondent following the meeting but it is expected that he will state his views on the question after he is re-elected next month.

On Saturday, John Lappupp of the Cuttin Corners Sasparella Co. notified Cuttin Corners and district store keepers that he is reducing his price $1 on half barrels of Sasparella bringing the cost to the keepers to $20.80. At the same time he declared a reduction of 15 cents on a case of 24 Junior Jumbo size bottles.

Sasparella is one of the two most popular beverages in the community. In the days before the rebellion it was banned by the social workers and there was illicit brewing and selling in the Green Swamps outside of town.

Now it is bought and sold along with the East Thimbleberry Bottling Company's trade brand, Red Con Cap, on a free market and the beverages enjoy a volume of sales second only to potatoes. In fact many of the more destitute families go without potatoes so they can buy Sasparella or Red Con Cap, depending on their tastes.

Yesterday the East Thimbleberry Bottling Co. said it was reducing the half barrel price to retailers by $1 and bringing the case price down 25 cents. The Cuttin Corners Sasparella Co. countered with the announcement that they would meet all price cuts offered by the other bottlers and promptly lopped off the price of a case of 24 Junior Jumbo size bottles by another 25 cents. Where this beverage price war will end, nobody knows.

Alderman Connie Sumption said in a report to council the other night that these price cuts have brought Sasparella and Red Con Cap into the homes of consumers who would otherwise be without the commodity in their households. Con Sumption said, "This is the best thing which ever hit Cuttin Corners" and invited the members as a whole to join him in a Sasparella party at his home.

Meanwhile Miss Purina Finch, guiding light and conscience of the community at a meeting of the Mothers' Protection and Guide the Home and Children club, told the members that this was no more than a monstrous plot to increase the sales of the bottling companies, which would eventually undermine the moral stability of the community.

"It is nothing but a horrible combine cunningly devised to popularize their commodities," she said. "I have read about those terrible combines in the papers but I never thought that our own lovely community would be degraded by one," said Purina Finch.

Cyril Izem has opened a new stand on the former Main St. wagon axle shop as a Sasparella centre which he calls the "Oasis." Catering to the arty set, he has hung local art on the walls of his place making it a combined centre for Sasparella and Cuttin Corners art.

Across the street Col. Holland Rivers has opened a Red Con Cap outlet in competition. The Col. is featuring a peep show to promote sales.

larger terms. All of the 20 farmers agreed that the federation of agriculture was a good thing. When the question was asked if they would support the federation by attending farm meeting and pay a membership fee or a tax on the assessment, the answers are not fit to print!

It has been said the only way to hurt some people is to take their money. Would it be better to leave these farmers thinking in terms of small amounts or step them up and let them see where they lose real money?

The lessons we have to learn in the federation are not easy! Why should the subsidy on grain freight rates be taken off and the subsidy on gold mining be left on? Is the mining of low grade ore more important than producing food? Or is it a case of the gold mining interests having more influence with our government than the federation of agriculture?

It is high time this kindergarten class of farmers put away their childish ways of thinking. When we study the reports of the combines commissions on price fixing and listen to our farm researchers and economists tell us of their own findings, these facts, that from time to time come to light, should be enough to cause every farmer to join the federation.

One farmer said that federation members should come around and tell the individual farmer about the federation. This farmer wished to know, wanted someone to come to his home. But he did not consider he was under any obligation to pay.

The question was asked one farmer of what he thought of Back Concession writing. The answer from this farmer was that it was trash. This farmer must of at least read some of Back Concession's writings or he could not have made this answer and we are grateful to this man for his time in reading. Cheerio.

The problem of the public school farm thinking or federation of agriculture is to get the kindergarten group to think in

THE OLD HOME-TOWN

By STANLEY

An Aurora Opinion

DOROTHY BARKER

Aurora Editor

It just doesn't add up! Thirty-four new homes in Aurora this year yet the population has only been increased by 17. Newmarket and Richmond Hill ran neck and neck with an increase of 156 and 151. Is Aurora such a dot on the highway map that the flocks of people reported to be seeking residence in the suburbs aren't conscious of our splendid location?

Town clerk Harold Clarke explained that all births are registered in the municipality where they occur. Most Aurora babies are born in York County hospital, Newmarket, which gets the credit for some of our population. Even if we could claim these babies this year (they eventually appear on the assessment roll, of course), we would still be left in a strictly minor increase bracket. Aurora is very obviously missing the boat for some reason. We must have more ratepayers if we are going to carry the debt load assumed by the town for the next 20 years and we must have new industries to attract workers to this locality.

Early in the spring, Deputy-Reeve Harry Corner brought a suggestion to council that a brochure be published, well illustrated, outlining the advantages Aurora had to offer prospective residents. The matter was turned over to the sports and publicity committee to investigate and bring back a report to council. It was evidently lost in the shuffle.

Now the board of trade, revived by a recent transfusion of enthusiasm and initiative, has announced that it will print a pamphlet of this nature. We are more concerned with the supply than the source, though we think Mr. Corner and Councillor Cliff Corbett, who tried to arouse enthusiasm by showing samples of other pamphlets, should have some credit for their progressive idea.

Publicity is the life blood of any town. There should be a definite amount in the annual town budget for this purpose. There are many old timers who grow their present small town atmosphere, but the population band wagon is rolling up No. 11 highway. The sooner we realize we must tout our own horn if we want to get aboard, the quicker we can reduce a mill rate that will scare away any prospective newcomers if it continues to climb.

OAK RIDGES - LAKE WILCOX

Community Rallies Aid For Families Who Lost All In Motel Fire

Oak Ridges Lions club, private citizens, the Red Cross and Aurora Salvation Army Corps quickly rallied to assist three Oak Ridges families stripped of their possessions on Monday when fire destroyed the Stunden Motel leaving them homeless. Their apartments were in the second storey of the building.

The Lions club organized for help early in the day, donating a voucher for groceries and food to take care of the immediate emergency. Jack Blythe, welfare committee chairman, with others located a home at Lake Wilcox for Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hughes and their nine-month-old baby and 12-year-old son. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nichols with their daughter, Judy, four months, were found an apartment at John Kingma's home, Yonge St., which they occupied later. They were given shelter and food by Mrs. Eric Bunn for a few days.

With the assistance of principal John Martin, Oak Ridges school, school children were given lists of things needed to be given to parents on Monday. Depots are set at the school, Capt. Hawman's Wheelhouse and Ridge Inn where donations of cash, clothing, furniture, bedding, household equipment and food will be collected by the Lions.

Aurora Salvation Army campaign for immediate help. The Toronto Red Cross headquarters brought clothing both on Monday and Tuesday through a telephone appeal made by Mrs. Eric Bunn.

As word of the disaster spread and that these families were in immediate need, Mrs. William Ashby and Mrs. Ed Cook, Lake Wilcox, did house to house canvassing ready response in clothes and $15 worth of groceries. They delved into the supplies being collected for the rummage sale, November 8, organized by the women in the interests of the local Christmas Cheer fund. Mrs. Eric Bunn, Oak Ridges, notified neighbors in her community of the plight of the stricken parents and families.

Mr. Stanley Rule, Yonge St., housed the Hughes family after they were given shelter for several hours by a tenant of one of the Stunden cabins. The Lions club has secured a dwelling for them at Lake Wilcox. The Ratepayers' Association hopes to help furnish the house with immediate requirements. The Association donated $15 and Mrs. S. C. Snively gave $30 to meet the first months' advance rent for the Nichols family at the Kingma apartments. The W.A. of St. John's Anglican church rushed groceries and vegetables to Oak Ridges and on Tuesday donated a substantial cash donation for distribution.

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald were somewhat more fortunately situated, with parents living in Toronto where they went immediately after the fire. They are being helped by the Red Cross there.

Recovering from Crash

Gordon Fortier, 20, is recovering from injuries received in a traffic accident last Saturday near Orillia. He suffered face cuts and a broken nose and was retained in Orillia hospital for several days. With a party of five, he was a passenger in a car which collided with a loaded transport near Brechin. Gordon's mother visited him at hospital during the weekend. Others in the vehicle received cuts and bruises.

Mrs. C. L. Stephenson and daughter, Elizabeth Anne, will be at Guelph this weekend for a musical festival.

Mr. and Mrs. James Gilchrist left their summer home at Lake Wilcox for their home at Winnipeg on Wednesday of this week. It was their misfortune to have vacated their Winnipeg home just after the heavy floods occurred in that section of the city. While the water did not go beyond the first floor of the dwelling, considerable damage to furnishings were said to have occurred. Mrs. Gilchrist's brother was in charge of the place during their absence. Some financial recompense was given by the Winnipeg flood fund to the Gilchrist. Their Lake Wilcox friends regret their departure.

HEROINE, 5, SAVES SISTER FROM PATH OF SPEEDING EXPRESS

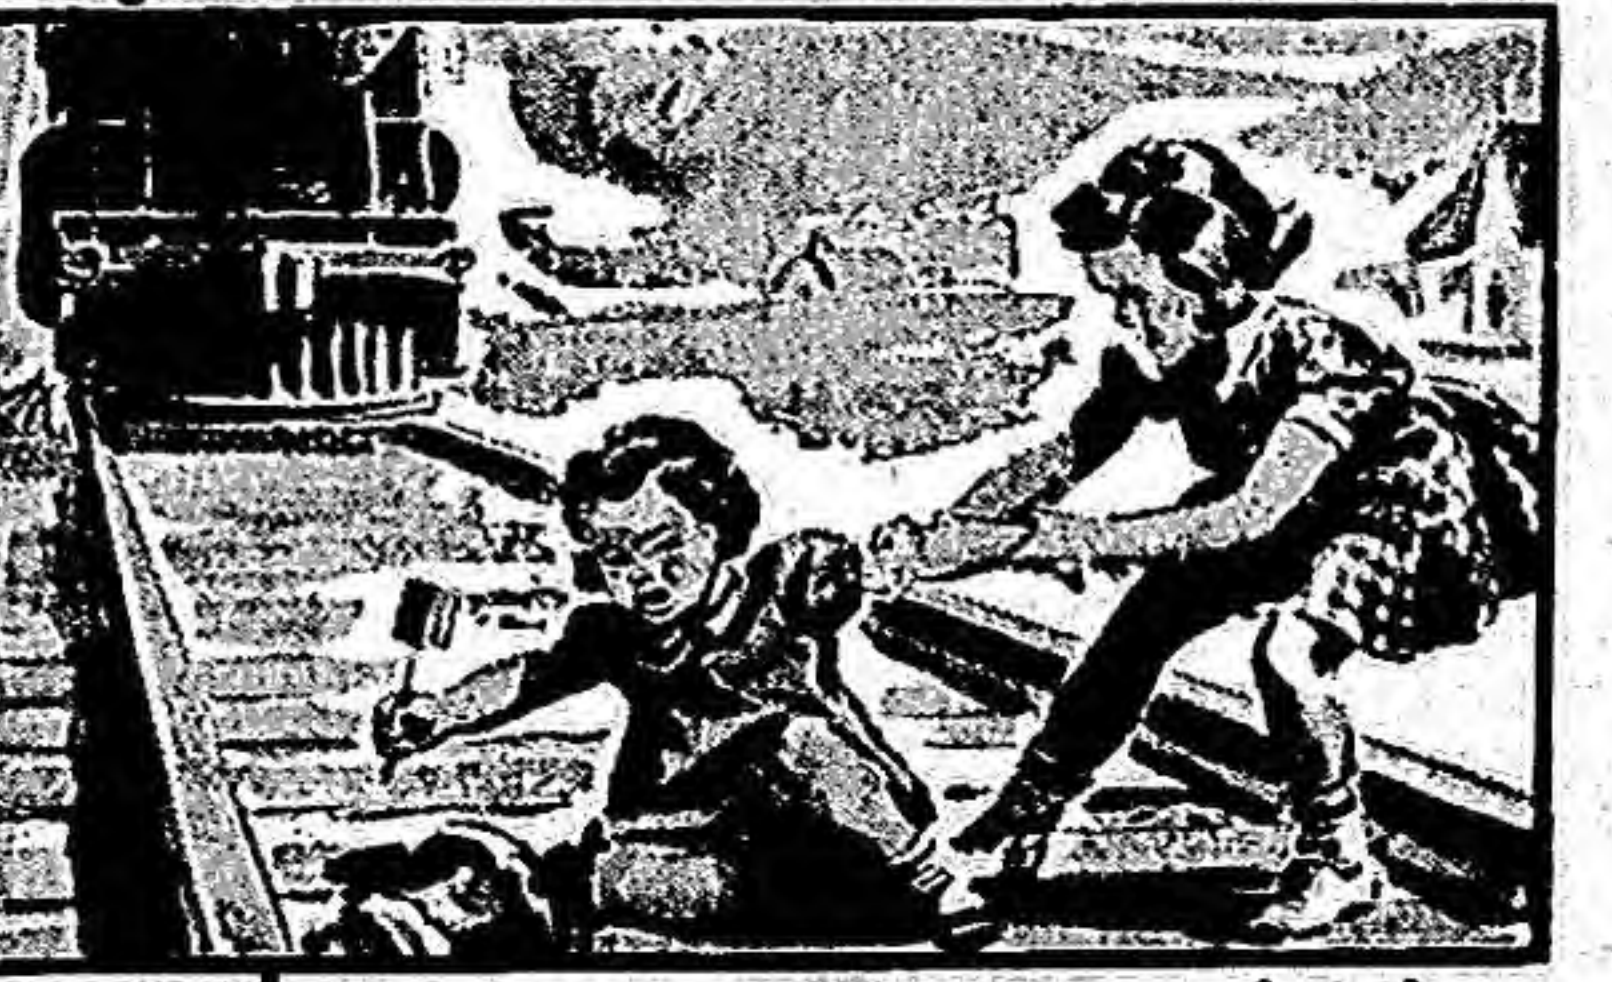

Shirley Allen, of North Sydney, N.S., Averts Tragedy by Pulling 3-Year-Old Sister from Tracks in Nick of Time

1. It was a pleasant day in Cape Breton. Five-year-old Shirley Allen was playing with her friends in front of her Upper North Sydney home—never dreaming that in another minute she was going to star in a dramatic, real-life adventure. It was a child's natural interest in trains that made her turn at the sound of a whistle. But her interest changed to terror when she saw her sister playing idly—right on the track!

2. Her first instinct was to cry "Mummy!"... but she knew there was no time. Something inside her told her that unless she acted quickly little Elaine would be killed. Racing to the tracks, she grabbed her sister—but 3-year-old Elaine, unaware of her danger, fought against being carried off. Fear clutched at Shirley's heart as she saw the speeding express train only a few short, terrifying yards away!

3. In a final desperate effort, however, Shirley managed to sweep the little girl off the tracks to safety—just as the train roared by! Witnesses were amazed at the courage and quick thinking of the 5-year-old girl. Because such bravery is rare in one so young and because Shirley risked her own life to save her sister's, we are proud to present her with The Dow Award.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation presented for acts of outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. The Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian daily newspapers, selects Award winners from recommendations made by a nationally known news organization.

See Big Year Ahead For Aurora B. of T.

Three new committees have been formed within the Aurora Board of Trade and the annual fee has been set at $2. Reports from Bert Gilbert, chairman of industrial procurement, Cameron Loblaw, retail, and Lorne C. Lee, town and country at the supper meeting in Trinity Hall Tuesday evening forecasts a progressive year for Aurora if plans now before the executive are completed.

Bert Gilbert announced that an illustrated pamphlet about Aurora will be printed. He also said that his committee would personally contact any prospective industry, especially canvassing the possibility of attracting American companies interested in locating in Canada.

Lorne Lee outlined plans for the purchase of a field at the back of the new high school. This will enable the Agricultural Society to expand its horse show.

Look To Girls In Effort To Save Band

Girls will be included in the Aurora Boys' Band it was decided at a meeting of citizens held in the town hall Thursday evening.

The band can be considered a war casualty as many of its members enlisted during hostilities and the band had never been up to strength since. On the verge of falling apart, a public meeting was called by Ralph Tucker, chairman of the Lions club band committee, to find ways and means of keeping this famous organization in existence.

Mrs. Lorne C. Lee suggested that the parents should be appealed to as a means of determining the number who would be willing to encourage their children to attend practice. "Without the co-operation of the parents in this regard, many of the youngsters do not remember to attend the practices regularly," said Mrs. Lee.

Ross Linton, president of the board of trade, presented a motion seconded by Tom Carter "that a committee of Lions together with the bandmaster prepare a questionnaire for both boys and girls to be circulated among students in the public school in an age group from 11-14 to determine how many children are interested in joining the band and how many would have the backing of their parents."

President of the Lions club, Charles Petersen, said that the question of the purchase of instruments for children who wish to join but are unable to provide their own instruments would be dealt with when the questionnaire showed the extent of interest in the future of the band. A further meeting will be called if there is sufficient response to this canvass.

Surviving are his two daughters, Mrs. T. Harlon Huntley (Della), Willow Beach; Mrs. Marshall Reive (Ferne), Churchill, and one son, Harry, Sutton; three grandchildren, John and Anne Hornor and Mrs. H. C. Rynard; one brother, William, Virginia; and three sisters, Mrs. S. Senne, Queensville, Mrs. Bremner, Portland, Ore., and Mrs. S. Breuls, Sutton.

Funeral was held in the United church, Sutton, on October 25 and was largely attended. Rev. E. A. Nichol, pastor, officiated. Floral tributes of sympathy showed the high esteem in which Mr. Hornor was held.

Interment was in Briars Hill cemetery, Sutton West. The pallbearers were Messrs. John King, Wm. Barge, Chas. Hornor, Angus Hadden, Orville King and Ronald Sennett.

MELODRAMA - A NEW ELIXIR

Of years long gone we read the tale
How scientists did try—and fail—
An elixir of life, to find
That would renew the heart and mind;
Would bring back youth, where youth had fled
And happiness around them spread.
No scientist of now, or then
Was needed, Friday night, for when
We gazed upon the town hall stage
A score of years stepped off our age.
In melodrama, last, was seen
When I was maybe seventeen.

At it I wept great tears of fright
For heroine's and hero's plight.
But now, although it lapped the years off,
I nearly laughed my silly head off!
Now let me say some words just here
For this should really be made clear,
That to Mike McMorrow there should be
A vote of thanks from you and me.

His casting was a work of art—
For every actor was his part.
And then the scenery, so artistic,
Not only that, but realistic,
'Gainst Hagan's backdrop, vivid, gay,
How could the play go but one way?
A melodrama has such things
That takes time back on swiftest wings
Of when a villain left no doubt

As just to what he was about,
And Joe Dales all the villain's wiles
Concealed beneath sardonic smiles,
While evil thoughts and evil deeds
Sprang up about his path like weeds
As partner of his evil ways
Though once his dupe in bygone days.

Kay Kudelka, from the past
Brought memories both thick and fast.
Though young, she'd somehow sensed the ways
This part was played in bygone days—
Her greediness for jewels and gold,
Her siren methods cruel and bold,
Her screams, remorse, near tragic end
Had melodrama's old time blend.

Then we have Don Cummings who
As Mookie Muggins, laughter drew.
But Mookie had a noble heart
And well and truly did his part
In foiling Munroe Murgatroyd

And making his plans null and void.
Dorothy Bowman, as Widow Lovelace
Would any humble cottage grace,
And died as she had lived, you see,
In simple, humble piety.

Her daughter, Nellie—Audrey Halme
Repelled at first with righteous calm
Over Munroe's evil flattery.
Only, alas, ah woe is me
To say with him that she would flee.
For in a false position, she
Had seen her lover seem to be
But when she broke her mother's heart
She bade the villain to depart
And stern her virtue did defend
And helped trap Munroe in the end.

Nick Styke, as Adam Oakhart, was
A lad who merited applause
As convict, dupe and drunk, his part
Demanded most consummate art.
A melodrama hero must
Be made to suffer wrongs unjust
Or else he isn't fit to be
In melodrama company.

Of Vera Brown I'd like to say
She had a fearsome part to play
As Mrs. Upson Asterbitt,
A socialite up to the hilt.
But when her past has found her out
Her nature makes a turn-about,
When from grande dame to murderer she Rids herself of her enemy!

She, too, has melodrama sense
And so her acting was immense.
Lorna Styke as the Asterbitt child
Is riven with a passion wild
For Murgatroyd, that slippery sneak Upon whom heaven soon will wreak
"A punishment to fit the crime!"

As Gilbert and Sullivan tell in rhyme,
For in his own vile trap he's caught
And thus a lesson we are taught —
For in a melodrama you
Will find two things always come true—
Virtue reaps a rich reward
While the villain rests (?) beneath the sword.

Kitty Cummings as Fleurette
Was really something of a pet.
Her oolala's, her speaking shrugs
At memory's heartstrings fondly tugs,
For a French maid must always be A part of such a play, you see—
As much as tying to the track
Our principals, our hearts to wrack.

Like Little Nell, who never knew
A father's love as up she grew,
The family's other half and I Looked on this play with joyful eye,
For there was finish in the way
The melodrama came our way;
A fitting into every part
That surely did rejoice one's heart.

To Alma Stephens there should go
Applause for her part played below
A smoother out of kinks was she
And that is something for to be.
Florence Goldsmith deserves a bow
For only those who've tried know how Difficult it is to play
For those who are so far away.

Property mistress, make-up, stage manager
All know that mishaps may occur,
But J. Fisher, N. Hughes and Dorothy Bowman
Need yield the palm of success to no man.
And now, there's just one thing or two
That I would like to see come true—
The songs we really longed to hear
Came but faintly to the ear.

All speaking voices were delightful
But we felt sad because our rightful
Wish to hear these old time airs
Was lost before it reached our chairs.
The only other plaint I had
—And it is nothing very bad—
Only—the drunken scene might be Shortened a little, for you see
It loses something of its force
When it becomes a just "of course".

But I know that there must be timing
Just as there's feet, in this, my rhyming.
A word goes to the noble four—
Those mustached gents from days of yore
Who to us brought the tuneful lays
That took our minds to other days,
For Bob and Alex, Charles and Gene
Took our minds back to the silent screen
When men of their ilk rolled in gold
Or roamed the world as brigands bold
Or barbershopped such harmony
As floated out to you and me.

IT'S A Woman's World

By CAROLINE ION

The official opening of the Prince Charles school proved to be a gala evening, quite in keeping with such an important occasion. Enormous baskets of 'mums', gifts from the architects, contractors and others concerned with the building of the school, decorated the platform. Everywhere there was a feeling of friendliness and goodwill.

An interesting and not too lengthy program had been arranged. That in itself was no small accomplishment. So often, official programs stretch out infinitely long, taxing the patience of even the most conscientious member of the audience. But such was not the case on Thursday evening. There was no stiffness about the proceedings which moved smoothly from one item to another. Neither did they lack the dignity associated with a formal opening of a public building.

Served with a dash of humor by the capable chairman of the board of trustees, Mrs. M. B. Sedon, the evening was very pleasant.

We were reminded again of the cliché, "It's a small world", for when the guest speaker, C. B. Routley, M.A., assistant superintendent of elementary education in the province, began his remarks, we learned that he had taught in the same school in the village of Alvinston as had our supervising principal, H. A. Jackson. Succeeding him as principal, Mr. Routley said that the only fault they could find with Mr. Jackson was that when he left he had taken with him the most eligible girl in Alvinston as his wife.

Of course, we females never underestimate the importance of the "woman's touch", but it often is scorned by the men. However, whenever one does acknowledge it the praise is sweet in our ears.

When Mr. Routley called attention to the visual influences of the women members of the board on the interior decorations at the Prince Charles school, every woman in the audience smiled her pleasure and pride in their work.

Pointing to the attractive, grey damask draperies in the auditorium and commenting on the pleasant color schemes used in the school, Mr. Routley said that other school boards who were not fortunate enough to have women members would be soliciting assistance from the Newmarket group. He added that much of the sense of harmony felt when in the building was the result of their attention to the extra details. (Why, every woman knows that it's the accessories which make a costume.)

Following the formal program, the visitors were taken on a tour through the school. "Have you seen the lavatories?" asked one woman. "Why, they are simply out of this world." (Being a practical soul my only comment was "How inconvenient.") One of the teachers said, "Perhaps that's why it takes some of the children so long to make the trip." Another told us of an amusing incident which occurred the first day classes were held at the Prince Charles school.

News of the W.I. In North York

News for this column must be in the office Monday night. Copy must be written as briefly as possible and confined to news and reports. Other than routine reports and announcements will be printed separately.

The October meeting of Lake-side branch was held at the home of Mrs. A. R. Hobson on October 24. The roll-call, "A successful new Canadian", was well responded to with a brief account of the lives of many, some not well known, others quite prominent, but all doing well in their adopted country. Letters of thanks were read from the Brampton Industrial Home where a treat was left on our visit to Brampton West Institute and from York County hospital for a donation of towels. Money was voted for glasses for a child in the community and for our delegate to the convention in Toronto.

Mrs. R. Serrick gave a paper on citizenship and education in which she told of the regulations governing the entry of displaced persons to Canada, then told of several who had settled in Newmarket vicinity. In educational matters she urged the Institute members to be actively interested in our school. Following the singing of the National Anthem a bountiful lunch was served by the hostesses.

The regular monthly meeting of the Newmarket branch will be held in the agricultural board room on Thursday, Nov. 16, at 7.45 in the evening. All members are invited to bring their husbands. Johnston Out Six Weeks
Caradonna Banged Up
Bill "Hot Shot" Johnston, Spitfires' scoring leader of last season, will be sidelined for approximately six weeks, it was learned here Friday morning. Bill suffered a cracked bone in his wrist midway through the third period in the opening exhibition game of the season against Bill Thoms' Stoneys' Thursday. Up to the time of his injury, Johnston had picked up three scoring points, two goals and an assist. Following hard on the heels of the injury to Bill Johnston, Friday morning Dame Fortune took a second swipe at the Spitfires. Harry Caradonna, who centered the line of Stan Gibbons and Ken Thoms in Thursday's game, was involved in a car accident that will keep him out of action for several weeks. It was first indicated that Harry had suffered a jaw fracture but that was later diagnosed as facial cuts and injuries to both knees.

Ken Maynard was elected president of the Schomberg hockey club at a recent meeting. Albert Crane was named secretary-treasurer. Bob Moody was returned as coach and Elgin Hastings was returned as manager. Schomberg is defending champion in the King-Vaughan hockey league.
Schomberg took a step in the right direction in defense of the laurels won last season by dumping Kettleby 4-2 last Friday as the league swung into action. Doug Marchant, Howard Archibald, Bruce Graham and Henry Hollingshead were the sharpshooters in the opening "to do" for the winners.
In the nightcap, Nobleton eased stay up even with Schomberg in the early league scraps.
Schomberg: goal, J. Kirton; defence, L. Harvey, Pike Cabli; centre, G. Hanley; wings, H. Hollingshead, W. Winters; alts., B. Graham, M. Edwards, T. Graham, D. Marchant, H. Archibald, D. Flynn, W. Breedon, D. Palmer.

DEER OUTNUMBERED
District Hunters Begin
Annual Trek To North

If you're missing a few familiar faces around the district, the reason is simple. Newmarket and district hunters are off on their annual hunting trek. One of the first to push off was the Falcon Hunt club. Newmarket members are Bert Morrison and Harry Richardson. Others members are Dr. G. M. Macpherson, Mount Albert, Eldon Goodwin, Holland Landing, and Percy Richmond, Keswick. Falcon camp is located in the Bayswater district.
Another party of Newmarket hunters is made up of Bob Bunn, J. Jefferson, Bruce Shanks, Harry Landry, Don Wright and Nels Snanks. They are operating in the Burkes Falls district.
Albert Bartholomew and Bob Walker, Newmarket, and Herb and Philip Bartholomew, Toronto, are making their hunting headquarters in the Haliburton district at Red Pines Lake.
Bill Denne left last Friday with a number of hunters from Bradford for Blackstone Lake in the Parry Sound area.
Joe Woodcock and Roy Church, Newmarket, Doug Harrison, Aurora, and Henry Widdfield, Pine Orchard, are another party of hunters toting their guns in the VanKoughnet area. Ted and Howard Williamson are hoping to get away this Sunday to join them.
Aubrey and E. J. Davis, Jr., and Heber Little, Guelph, are with the Horse Shoe Hunt club in the Ox Tongue Lake district.
Alf Hart is another local hunter spending a couple of weeks in the north woods in the vicinity of Crown Lake.
Allan Mills and Jack Booth, along with Jim Day and Art Pollock, Keswick, are back in the woods some 20 miles north-east of Burkes Falls.
The deer will have further cause to take cover with the hunters' ranks being swelled this Friday as the Bradford club departs for the north. Members from Newmarket are Charles "Kid" Harman, Ken Harman, Errol and Ollie Gould, Bill and Russell Curtis, Jim and Jack Church, Dr. S. J. Boyd and Herb Webster, Glenville. The Bradford club is located in the Eau Claire district.
Luke Lyons leaves on his annual deer hunting trip Friday with the Proctor Hunt club, which boasts over 20 members. Mr. Lyons' sons, Aubrey, Feneion Falls, and Marshall, Scarborough Bluffs, are making the trip with him.
Still another band of hunters expecting to leave Sunday with the Superior Hunt club are John Victor, Vic Giovannelli, Norm Gilpin, Andy Gatu and John Catania. Their camp is located near Nobel.

Gormley W.I. Raises $300
With 'Radio Artists Review'

Five hundred people enjoyed the "Radio Artists Review" sponsored by the Gormley branch of the Women's Institute Friday night at Graystones, Aurora.
Approximately $300 was cleared for the winter welfare work undertaken each year by this branch.
Mrs. B. Kays, president, Prof. and Mrs. A. E. Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. I. Reid received the guests. Mr. Reid, radio producer at C.J.B.C., was instrumental in obtaining the talent for the evening's program.
The master of ceremonies was Al Harvey and among the artists were Jimmy Shields, George Murray, The Kenny Sisters, Horace Lapp and his musicians, Cliff McKay of the Happy Gang, Tony the Troubadour, the Ginnis Bell Ringers and a music group of Joe Nicol, bass, Bill Isbister, pianist, and Stan Wilson, guitar.
Forty-three door prizes were awarded. These were donated by Aurora and Newmarket merchants and many from the surrounding towns.
Prof. and Mrs. Smith were hosts before the entertainment at their farm on the third concession of Whitchurch when their guests, those performing during the evening, enjoyed a turkey dinner.

Farm Federation
News

York county federation of agriculture monthly meeting was held recently in the agricultural board rooms, Newmarket. Reports were heard from cream, poultry and hog producers. Mr. P. Wicks, chairman of York county cream producers, explained the advertising campaign by the dairy industry.
He said there was little cream produced in the south of the county and that the creamery of the United Co-Operatives of Ontario in Toronto had to close for lack of cream. A member said from the floor that if the whole milk shippers would hold their surplus milk, there would be plenty of cream.
A soft wheat committee was appointed of Messrs. F. Marritt, C. Casey, E. Lemmon.
J. C. Hooper, member of federation's standing committee on taxation, reported progress in the equalization of rural and suburban taxation.
It was decided to hold the county annual meeting around the first week of December. The amount of business on the agenda would warrant a full day with lunch to be served at noon.
A newspaper report was read where labor asked the federal minister of justice to have an investigation into the dairy industry and asked the government to continue the subsidy on grain and freight rates. Labor recognizes that the farmer cannot continue to absorb the increase in cost of farm produce. The farmers feel humiliated that labor must start to fight their battle.
The agenda for the annual meeting includes finance, marketing, farm produce and taxation. Arrangements are being made for guest speakers.

HASH
BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor
Pucks drop, skates flash, the hockey season's on! Coach Larry Molyneaux and manager Father T. J. McCabe aired the Spitfires of '50-'51 Thursday. Spits put away Bill Thoms' Stoneys 8-6 with a last period drive that netted five goals to sound the right note.

The win proved costly as Bill "Hot Shot" Johnston, the club's leading scoring ace of last year, suffered a cracked bone in the wrist. Ordinarily that would have all but crossed off his playing days for this season but the early start makes it possible for "Hot Shot" to get back in by about Christmas, so the loss, though tough to absorb, isn't as costly as might be expected.
Well, bless my heart, would have thought first game and all attendance would have topped a 1,000 but no, a disappointing 400 odd. Counter attractions around the hub possibly prevented the turnstiles from clicking at a faster rate. Fans who tripped to the arena were treated to a good fast brand of hockey and no complaints were forthcoming on their first taste of hockey.
The Spits, in their initial test, used 11 of last year's regulars. New with coach Larry Molyneaux was Dennis "Denny" Labine. Labine showed a knack of handling the puck like he invented the art of stick-handling. Denny set himself right with the fans by scoring the first Spitfire goal of the game.
The other new recruit was Al Shewchuk, a defenseman, who makes every move count and should prove just what the doctor ordered in the blue line bounce department. Closer at home, Joe Magani and Joe Wolf from Bradford and Jim "Skip" Taylor added a district flavor to proceedings. Taylor, as all who saw him with Sutton last season will agree, can make tracks but fast and Joe Magani with a huffing and a puffing is fast rounding into one of the best defencemen with the Spits.
Laurie and Ken "Motts" Thoms also took turns against Uncle Bill's Stoneys. Laurie has since, we're told, patched up difference with Hack Cain and Jim Walls and will be doing his centre ice pivoting with Aurora junior B's. Last of newcomers seeing action Thursday was Ross Forfar from the Stouffville countryside. The Spits duelled with a complete line from Markham "Millionaires" of last year, the Brennan, Bell Singleton line, and did right well against the fast travelling, sure-passing trio.
Sounds like old times: Bracebridge, Gravenhurst and Mark-

King-Vaughan League
Gals Down To Business

Bill Hodgins of Kettleby was elected president of the King-Vaughan Hockey League at the league's annual meeting at Nobleton. Elgin Hastings of Schomberg was named vice-president and Carl Shaw of Kleinburg was chosen secretary-treasurer. The executive committee will be composed of one member from each team. These are to be named in the near future.
Schomberg, Kettleby, Nobleton and Kleinburg are the four teams in the circuit again this year. Double-headers are played Friday night at Nobleton arena. League play opened last Friday.

Now They Want To Put
Little Woman On Ice

More and more, the story reads, that it's a woman's world and this may be the clinching fact. Anybody interested in forming a ladies' hockey league? It seems last winter's exhibition games between Sutton, Keswick and Newmarket aroused enough interest to bring forth the hope that a league could be formed this year.
With that in mind, Chas. Stevens, Keswick, who headed the slate of officers in the Lake Simcoe junior ladies' softball league, is on the search for teams. Sutton and Keswick will definitely have teams, says the Keswick sportsman. "We're looking for an entry from Newmarket, Aurora and possibly Mount Albert." Are you listening? An organization meeting will be held in the near future if four teams can be lined up.
to benefit should pay for soil conservation. If work done in one municipality will provide benefits for, or overlap into other municipalities, then all concerned should help. Large, inter-county schemes should be subsidized by the provincial governments.
One question discussed at this meeting which vitally affects this particular community is the fact that a nearby town is drilling several deep wells to meet its expanding water requirements and this is having a serious effect on many farm wells in its vicinity.
The next meeting of the Bogartown forum will be held at the home of Bill Walker.

Hazel Bennett with a 671 triple headed the slate of three game scorers in the Thursday night ladies' league. Second place fell to Betty Van Zant with 661. Quite a drop to next shotmaker Jean Wrightman 512 and Myrtle Dunn 511.

Edna McGrath came up with a new high in singles with a 334 mark and also paced the three game scorers in the Monday night ladies league with a 755 (334-210-211). Jeanne Gatti, the league's new secretary - taking over from Mrs. Floss Campbell who leaves this week for Hamilton - captured second place with 590 (197-236-137). Phyl McInnis 571, Floss Campbell 568, Hester Clark 538, Netta Smalley 537 and Claire Pollock 534 finished in that order. Femmes, Wizards and Cubs gained 3-1 wins over Dubs, Feeps and Spark Plugs respectively. League standing now reads Cubs 16 1/2, Femmes and Wizards 13, Feeps 11, Dubs 10 1/2 and Spark Plugs 8.

Vorelone shoved Office into the cellar with a 5-2 win and Press Shop protected their first place position with a similar win over Machine Shop. N.H.S. FINISHES
SEASON WITH NO LOSSES

After being on the short end of a 12-6 count at half time Fred Speer's Newmarket High school gridiron forces took to the air in last half to win a resounding 29-12 victory over Beaverton High at Pickering College field Wednesday afternoon. The win enabled the N.H.S. to run through their regular schedule without a single loss.

Three completed forward passes Jerry Hugo to the sure catching Jack Vance, accounted for the major bulk of the Newmarket scoring. Alvin McKnight went over on a sleeper play and Howard Ash plunged from the five yard line for the other Newmarket majors. Both Beaverton TD's were counted by Dick Hall in the opening half.

Newmarket and Aurora now clash in a home-home series for the league crown opener at Aurora Friday, return game here Tuesday.

Newmarket: J. Vance, A. McKnight, H. Ash, P. Morton, J. Hugo, F. Morton, D. Huntley, G. Lister, R. Ingram, A. Jackson, K. Boylen, B. Rogers, W. Robinson, D. Smith, R. Lockhart, J. Bunn, R. Shaw, R. Cotton.

Newmarket high school gridironers walloped Sutton 41-7 in a North York secondary schools football league contest Friday. The game was played in Sutton. Quarterback Jerry Hugo powered the Newmarket win with three touchdowns, Jack Vance supplying main help with two major scoring drives. Howard Ash, Wayne Robinson and Ron Sullivan completed the point scoring parade with TD. Sutton intercepted a pass for a touchdown.

Frank Gregoire's Aurora squad assured themselves of second place and the right to meet Newmarket in the league play-offs by whipping Beaverton 40-9 for a home victory. Dave Harrison with two, Dave Crysdale, Ken. Ham and Ted Marsdon with single touchdowns compiled the Aurora margin. Don. Busy clicked with three converts, a field goal and a single to complete the bright picture for the winners.

Town League Divides
Talent To Keen Going

Monday night, the Newmarket Town Leaguers held their second parade of talent in the shuffle to keep the league operating as a four team home-brew unit. The event couldn't be classed as a complete success, still the executive ruled enough new players were available to throw into the player pool to keep the four teams. Hoffman, Davis Leather, Office Specialty and Merchants intact.

Following the practice sessions, draw for the extra players was made. Harry Thoms' Tannery crew secured Deb. Cooper, Robert Budd, Norm. Lighthouse and Raymond Crouch. Town Merchants drew Jack Smith, "Shorty" Greenwood, Stan. Evans and Lloyd Cudmore. "Ceegars" McDonald's Hoffman side collected Cec. Andrews, Dave Lyons and Merv. Broughton.

The teams expect to add to their list as soon as the final make-up of the Spitfires and Hoffman "Rocket" Juniors is announced. A further draw will be made for players after this information is available.

Meet Sunday To Plan
Youngsters' Puck Loops

Some of the younger hockey players sitting on the sidelines may have got the idea they had been forgotten in the shiny shuffle, but this Sunday at 3.30 p.m. there will be a general meeting in the Newmarket arena office of all interested in seeing that minor hockey has its full fling.

All industries in Newmarket, the service clubs, Optimists and Lions, Legion, Veterans, recreation commission, Tom Kirk night committee and the public and high schools have been contacted to have a representative present, with the added note that everyone interested in juvenile and midget and younger age groups are welcome to attend.

Coaches and managers are needed, so don't be shy, fellows. Jack Hamilton, chairman of boys' work with the Optimist club and prime mover in starting the minor hockey parade, advises the meeting is planned so as not to interfere with the memorial parade.

Rangers Of 1914-18 Have Annual Reunion Saturday

The annual reunion and dinner of the 127th Battalion Association, York Rangers, took place on Saturday evening in the Legion Hall, 22 College Street, Toronto. This C.E.F. unit, raised in York County, had the distinction of going overseas as a unit and serving as such in France and Flanders till the end of the war of 1914-18.

All ranks joined to welcome their first and only commander, Lieut.-Col. F. F. Clarke, D.S.O., and Bar, who came from Montreal to be present. President Leslie Mapes occupied the chair and the guest of the evening was Lieut.-Col. J. W. Singleton, commander of the Queen's York Rangers.

Major J. C. Boylen, an "original", and the Association's first president in a short address recalled some incidents in the service of the unit. While various sections of the county were represented, the Newmarket contingent was the largest in attendance.

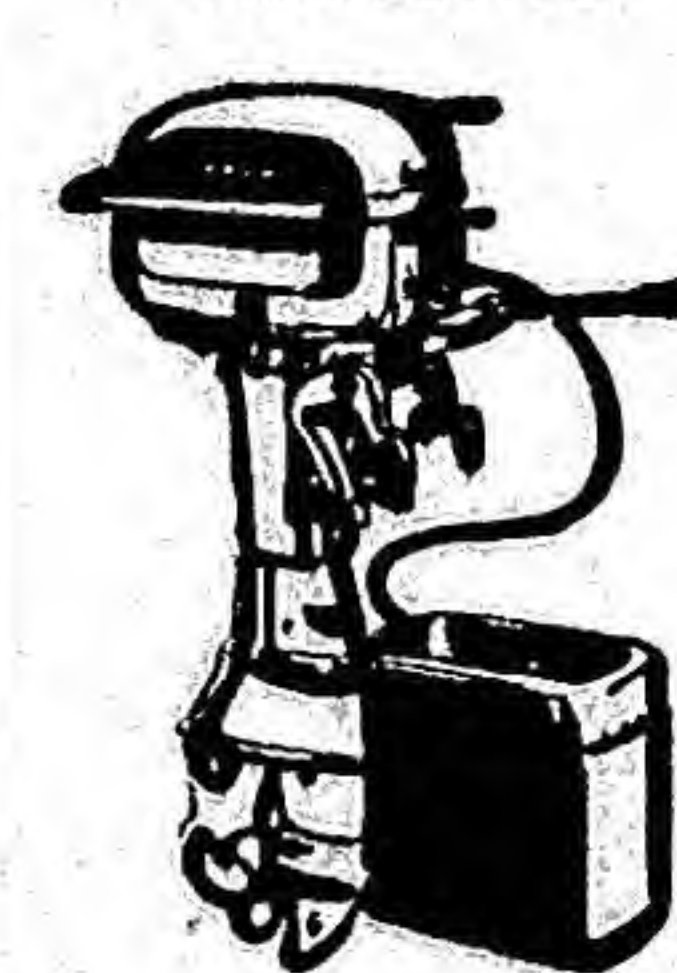

Look For Fourth Entry
In Aurora Town Loop

Aurora Town Hockey League has three teams and is searching for a fourth, says Cliff Chapman and "Mickey" Sutton, champions in the move to organize the loop. The three teams indicating they were ready to enter are Town "Ditch Diggers", Merchants and Collis Leather, it was learned at a preliminary organization meeting held Sunday. Haris are being approached to complete the four-team circuit. A further meeting is in the offing when the fourth team is secured.

At the west end are now complete, also the stairs leading down to the dressing rooms. The terrazzo floor in the lobby or recreation room was started on Monday. The electric fixtures have been hung in all the dressing rooms. The oil burner to heat the dressing rooms and provide hot water for showers was installed last week. As yet the ducts to carry the heat to the dressing rooms haven't been completed but it is expected this phase of the work will be carried out before the end of the week.

All the Aurora sporting public are anxiously scanning the progress being made and like the over-all picture the arena presents now that it is nearing completion. Latest information is that public skating will likely start on Saturday afternoon and evening of this week.

EAST ONTARIO
CHAMPS FETED
BY OPTIMISTS

Members of the Newmarket bantam and pee-wee baseball teams, 30 strong, who won the Eastern Ontario crown in both classes, were guests of the Optimists club at a banquet at the King George hotel Friday. Club president Joe Dales in his welcoming remarks brought the good news "We're going to do it again next year and bigger and better than ever".

President Dales then called on alderman Charles VanZant to present crests to the bantams, while Bill Mundell, assistant recreation director at Aurora, did similar honors with the pee wee baseballers. Jack Hamilton, chairman of boys' work with the Optimist club, introduced Mr. C. R. "Blackie" Blackstock, athletic director at Pickering College, who spoke to the boys on "What Makes a Champion" and also ran through briefly the beginnings of baseball.

Coach Frank Hollingsworth congratulated the teams on their good sportsmanship and fine showing and voiced the hope that next summer both teams would add to their prestige by annexing the all-Ontario championship.

Bill Mair of the bantams was voted most popular player and was presented with the Newmarket Sports and Cycle Trophy. The evening closed with the showing of a number of films.

Players present were D. Bone, C. McGuire, V. Hutchinson, J. McGuire, J. Mills, D. Zogole, D. Thoms, L. Bone, B. Keffer, F. Lewis, B. Wilson, L. VanZant, J. Stickleland, G. Morton, D. McKnight, G. Davis, W. Mair, F. Bennett, R. Knowles, G. Edwards, G. Kiroff, J. Cain, W. Forhan. Head table guests were W. Mundell (Aurora), F. Hollingsworth, C. R. Blackstock, C. VanZant, G. Haskett, J. Dales, J. Hamilton.

Aurora Bantams Copy
N.H.L. Names, Set-Up

Aurora plans to give its minor hockey set-up a boost this year. Bill Mundell, assistant recreation director, reports a six-team bantam league is being formed. The league will be patterned along the lines of the National Hockey league, complete with contracts, playing certificates and releases. Each team in the league will be named after a parent club in the National Hockey League. The league plans to operate on Saturday mornings in the Aurora arena. Six garage operators in Aurora are providing the sweaters for the various teams.

DOWN THE CENTRE BY AB HULSE

War Over Down Stouffville Way

Peace is wonderful: The folks down Markham-Stouffville way have finally got their hockey problems into the proper perspective and the player situation untangled. Earl Robinson, ex-Montreal Maroons who coached the Millionaires last winter, has returned as coach and Max Reesor has retired from his early season chore. Johnny Wegg comes back as manager replacing Bill Conlin and the eight rebels, Messrs. Stundin, Bert Baker, Brennan, Singleton, Jackie Watson, George and Fred Scott and Ron Bell have bowed to Panther's order and donned Markham sweaters again. The rest of the boys stayed in the fold from the beginning and four imports have been added. That means the Moneymen and Stouffville Clippers will be up and at it as of yore, and the pews will be bulging at Oshawa and Stouffville with cash customers.

Bob Bangay has all of the 1950 squad on hand and of course aside from himself has added George Stark, ex-Aurora and Newmarket Vets player, Hal Gibson, former Georgetown and Maritimes scoring star has also been added and Johnny Rhodes, a classy goaltender of similar playing experience, will add lustre to puck-stopping job. Both teams are plenty strong and will be mighty potent in the O.H.A. senior B series.

This season, the senior B clubs will be seeking the Allan Cup no less, while the straight out and out money clubs like Marlboros and the O.H.A. foursome, Sydney Millionaires, the Quebec group, Calgary and the Pacific Coast circuit will be in a special series. They're different only in name from the minor pro leagues. Stouffville and Markham have already demonstrated they're not far below this rating, so as Mickey Smith said after the Stoney's game: "Could be we'll see the senior B, intermediate A, intermediate B, junior B and junior C crowns in North York this year." Wishful thinking 'tis true so early in the year, but all the clubs are stronger than last season and reports from the training camps, with plenty of artificial ice practices, have been good about Aurora Indians, Aurora

Spitfires Come From Behind
To Defeat Stoneys 8-6

Play Bracebridge Tonight

The Spitfires will don their hockey armament again tonight in their early season conditioning exercises to match wiles and strides with Bracebridge. It is the second tilt in the Spitfires' early season exhibition series. Bracebridge is rated as an intermediate A club by the O.H.A. and should provide top notch opposition for the local puck-carriers. Jack Portland, six foot odd ex-National Hockey League pro, is playing coach with the northerners. The visitors playing personnel is said to contain several imports from Bucko McDonald's Sundridge team of last year. Proceedings get underway at 8.30 p.m. The Spitfires will journey to the Muskoka centre November 18 for a return engagement.

Indians Open Up
With Win Over Packers

It was all unofficial and hush-hush but Aurora "Indians" cracked open their hockey season Wednesday in Aurora arena. Nobody was supposed to know about it but at least a couple of hundred fans stole into the sneak preview. To coin a well worn phrase, the Indians couldn't have started off any better as they scalped Canada Packers, a senior B sextette from the Weston major commercial league, by a 4-0 count.

Ron Simmons whipped in a pair of goals, Jimmy O'Hearn and Jack Rumney collected a goal and an assist each. Harry Morrison, one of Harold Rogers' new recruits, showed up with an assisting mark.

Coach Harvey Gibney has a powerful pack to send out and we're predicting they'll be heard from before the winter is out. More exhibition games are on the docket. Next time we'll advertise, says manager Rogers.

Plan Early Meeting
For Lake Simcoe League

"Nothing doing yet", says Longford Pegg, headman of the Lake Simcoe Hockey League. "We'll be calling a league meeting very shortly and then will have something to report". Five teams were entered in the league last winter, Queensville, Mount Albert, Vandonr, Pine Orchard and Keswick. Queensville won the league crown and Morton Bros. trophy in a hectic series with Mount Albert.

Newmarket's hockey clients saw their future hopefuls, the Spitfires, carry off an 8-6 decision over Stoneys, the Bill Thoms' major commercial squad which works at Varsity arena a couple of p.m.'s per week.

Spitfires were down 4-3 at the end of two fast skating sessions and salvaged the game by pouring in five goals in the final canto. The clincher, as the Spits held a 7-6 margin down to the last minute, was one for the books as Bill Thoms hauled his net-minder off in favor of an extra forward. "Skip" Taylor, the Sutton speedster, took the puck from the face-off to shoot it the full length of the ice into the empty Stoney goal.

The first two periods were give and take scoring. Stoneys opened after three minutes with the Spits keeping within one of a tie until they opened the throttle in the final frame.

Denny Labine, the Parry Sounder, got himself set right with the rail birds by scoring the first goal and in combination with "Swiftly" Todd and "Skip" Taylor, made a productive line, accounting for four goals. Labine did honors twice, "Swiftly" Todd and "Skip" Taylor one each. The other forward string making itself heard on the scoring summary was last year's high scoring trio of Normie Legge, Bill Johnston and Don Smith. The "old hands" chalked up four goals to match the new skating combo, Smith and Johnston both sniping for a pair.

Coach Larry Molyneux used two net-minders, Joe Tunney and Fred Dillman, and assigned six defensemen, Al Shewchuk, a new acquisition, Joe Peat, Gord Bone, Joe Magani, Miles McInnis and Ross Forfar, to duty. Along with two previous lines, Laurie Thoms centred a line of Joe Wolf and Bill Mabbett, while Harry Caradonna was flanked by Stan Gibbons and Ken "Motts" Thoms.

Bradford Wants Place
In Town Or Lake Loop

"Just wouldn't seem right for Bradford not to have a hockey team of one kind or another", says Bruce Collings, acting as spokesman from the Celery Kings' lair. "We're not strong enough to go into O.H.A. but we have a team and want to play hockey".

Any chance of getting in the Newmarket Town League or Lake Simcoe Hockey League? There you have the question, so we'll leave it with the Town League or Lake Simcoe League executive to take it up. How about it men, need another team?

"Don't expect too many miracles in this Push-button Age!"

"Every year science is creating more 'miracles' to make living easier in countless ways. And what we see today is only the beginning of an amazing new era of comfort and convenience.

"But it seems to me that some people are expecting too many miracles. For instance, they believe that, by some kind of magic, old-age benefits will provide all the money they're ever going to need when they retire.

"I believe in security for everyone. But I want mine planned to suit my own individual needs. That's why I have my own life insurance.

"I'll take all the insurance I've got now, and maybe more, to help provide the kind of retirement income I want and when I want it!

"My life insurance is flexible, too. I had my choice of dozens of different kinds of policies. And my life underwriter helped me arrange a balanced programme that gives my family protection now, while it builds a better income for my old age.

"Come what may, I'm still relying on my own life insurance. Like millions of other Canadians, I've found it the sure road to security!"

THE NEWMARKET ERA AND EXPRESS, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 9TH, 1950 ELEVEN

Visitors at the formal opening of the Prince Charles school in Newmarket last Thursday and Friday saw a modern kindergarten, brightly decorated and well lit. Here the children stretch out for their afternoon nap, a regular part of each day's schedule.

What's Inside School All That Really Counts Opening Audience Told

"A good home and a good community are the birth-right of every child. It is schools such as the Prince Charles which help to supply the latter and through the training received there, the foundation for future good homes is laid," said C. B. Routley, M.A., assistant superintendent of elementary education for Ontario when he addressed the official opening of the Prince Charles public school on Thursday evening, Nov. 2.

Over 900 new schools have been built in the province during the past four or five years, Mr. Routley told his attentive audience. "I never say that this one is a fine school or that one is a fine school when passing them as I drive from one community to another. I wait until I can see inside them to make my decision for a beautiful building alone does not fill the requirements. There is no hesitation in my saying that Newmarket's newest public school is an excellent one. The attitude of the teachers, the feeling of goodwill and co-operation which is so evident together with the high calibre of workmanship in the pupil's displays warrant such a decision."

Mr. Routley called attention to the bi-lighting (windows on opposite sides of the classrooms) which distributes light evenly to the desks. He commented on the pleasing color schemes, the acoustical ceiling which made his job of speaking to the group so easy and which would prove a similar aid to the teachers; the green "save-sight" boards which cut glare to a minimum as well as many other features of the building.

O. M. McKillop, B.A., B. Paed., inspector of York I, introduced Mr. Routley. He traced the guest speaker's career from the beginning as an elementary school teacher to his present office.

Visitors to the school were welcomed as they arrived by members of the public school board of trustees: Mrs. M. B. Seldon, chairman, Mrs. N. L. Mathews, vice chairman, Mrs. C. A. Curtis,

School Key Given Pupil As 'Owner'

An impressive ceremony at the official opening of the Prince Charles school, Newmarket, on Thursday, Nov. 2, was the presentation of the key. The master key to the building, gold plated and suitably boxed, passed through a succession of hands to be accepted finally by Michael Murphy on behalf of the children of Newmarket.

Making the original presentation on behalf of the town, Mayor Joseph Vale commended the school board for the foresight shown in their wise selection for the location of the school. Mr. Vale spoke of his deep appreciation for the work of the school board members and said that in the face of almost insurmountable obstacles they had finished the task undertaken and had done it extremely well.

J. L. R. Bell, chairman of the property committee, accepted the key from Mr. Vale on behalf of the school board of trustees and presented it to H. A. Jackson, supervising principal of the Newmarket public schools.

Mr. Jackson paid tribute to the builders of the school and told how wonderful it was to work there. In passing the key on to Michael Murphy, he said that he was presenting the key to "the rightful owners of the school—the children of Newmarket."

Michael made a fine speech of acceptance. The key was then placed in the trophy case in the hall of the Prince Charles school.

Emily Post was losing interest in me! I would break off with this boy immediately and start looking for someone else. There are lots of fish in the sea, you know, without looking in the seaweed.

AURORA HIGH NEWS

Social events at Aurora high opened on Friday, Oct. 27, with an exciting Halloween dance sponsored by the Students' Council. Prizes were given for the best costumes and the school's records made merry music for the evening, which was financially and socially an extremely happy one.

The last two weeks provided some of the best rugby that has been seen in these "ere parts since Grandpa was a pup. Aurora high beat Beaverton with lots to spare and treated Sutton the same way only to meet defeat by Newmarket 12-6. To soften the blow, Newmarket juniors were defeated by the Aurora juniors with more than a few points to spare.

Adding still further to our local pride, sport enthusiasts in Aurora had the satisfaction of seeing the home team win the return match against Beaverton on the home grounds last Friday.

We're not rough. We're not tough. But, boy, are we stubborn!

"...AND THIS IS ALCAN'S BIRTHDAY PICTURE"

THIS PICTURE of the first aluminum plant in the British Empire was taken in 1900. That was only 14 years after Charles Martin Hall had discovered how to make aluminum cheaply by using electricity.

The plant was erected in semi-wilderness at Shawinigan Falls because the river was being harnessed to provide electricity. Aluminum was the first to use this power. Today Shawinigan Falls has many industries and is a hustling, thriving city. Alcan, too, has been growing during these fifty years. Today the company has 12 plants providing jobs for 11,000 Canadians and supplying aluminum to more than 1000 independent Canadian manufacturers from coast to coast.

On its 50th Birthday, Alcan looks back over half a century of progress—and forward to continued growth with Canada.

THE HOMEMAKER'S

Accuracy Counts In Pies

History does not record the name of the chef who, of necessity, made pies of apples instead of meat. His apple pies were so successful that pie soon became more popular as dessert than as a main course dish. The variety of dessert pies has increased until there are hundreds of fruit, custard and gelatine-sponge pies from which to choose.

The homemaker who is able to make good pastry holds the key to popularity in her home and community. The home economists of the consumer section, department of agriculture, say that there is no good or bad luck in pastry making. It is accuracy in measuring and care in handling that counts. There are many excellent methods and recipes for pastry. The following modern method of mixing pastry makes it almost failure-proof.

PLAIN PASTRY

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
Or 3 1-3 cups pastry flour
1 1/2 tsp. salt
6 tbsp. cold water
3/4 cup lard or mild-flavored fat
Mix flour and salt. Remove 1/2 cup of the flour and blend the water into it, making a smooth paste. Cut the fat into the remaining flour until the pieces are the size of small peas. Mix in the flour paste, combine until the dough clings together. Chill before rolling. Makes enough pastry for 3 9" pie shells; or 1 double crust and 1 9" shell; or 3 dozen 2" tart shells.

There are, however, several points which are worth keeping in mind. Too much flour makes tough pastry. Too much shortening makes the pastry dry and crumbly. Too much liquid makes heavy pastry. Too much handling spoils the tender texture. It is this last point on which the novice often stumbles. In her efforts to make the perfect pie, she works with the pastry too long. The pastry is most important in pie-making but it is the filling that gives the pie its character.

These tested recipes should be added to the list of favorites.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON PIE

3 1/2 cups cooked pumpkin
1 cup brown sugar
3 egg yolks
1 1/2 tsp. ginger
1/4 tsp. cloves
1/2 tsp. mace
1/2 tsp. allspice
2 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. salt
2 cups milk
3 egg whites
2 baked 9" pie shells

Mix pumpkin with 3/4 cup brown sugar, beaten egg yolks, spices, salt and milk. Cook in the top of a double boiler until thickened, about 20 minutes. Beat egg whites until stiff, beating in remaining 1/4 cup sugar and fold meringue quickly into the pumpkin mixture. Pour filling into the baked pie shells and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, for ten minutes. Cool and serve. Yield: two 9" pies.

BUTTERSCOTCH PEACH PIE

1 9" unbaked pie shell
1 20-oz. can peaches
3-4 cup brown sugar
3 tbsp. butter
3 1/2 tbsp. flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. vinegar
Line a 9" pie plate with pastry. Drain liquid from peaches and slice the fruit into the pastry shell. Mix the peach syrup and brown sugar and bring to boil. Melt butter, add flour, salt and cinnamon. Add this mixture slowly to hot liquid and cook until mixture is thick and smooth, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and add vinegar. Pour the sauce over sliced peaches and cover with a lattice of pastry strips. Bake in a very hot oven, 425 degrees, until done, about 25 minutes. Yield: one 9" pie.

COUPLE WED AT KETTLEBY CHURCH

WEDDINGS

PEGGY KING WED IN MEAFORD

Christ church, Meaford, was the setting October 21 for a simple but impressive ceremony when the marriage was solemnized between Margaret Claire (Peggy), only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Raven King, "Gazeway", Meaford, and William Arthur Ball, son of Mrs. Ball, Toronto, and the late Mr. Arthur F. Ball. Rev. Handley Perkins, B.A., officiated. Mrs. Young, Meaford, played the wedding music for the candlelight service. The church was beautiful with white and autumn shades of 'mums.

The King family are former residents of Newmarket. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, gowned in a white lace bodice and nylon net over satin skirt. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a coronet of baby 'mums, blending with her bouquet of pale yellow and white 'mums. A double strand of pearls, the gift of the groom, completed her costume.

Mrs. Kenneth Morrison, Toronto, the bride's cousin, was her only attendant, gowned in ballerina length shot taffeta in copper tones, with brown accessories. She carried a bouquet of bronze and yellow 'mums. Mr. Arthur Ball, Toronto, attended his brother as best man. The ushers were Dr. D. Chapple and Mr. R. Cavanaugh, both of Toronto.

An unusual note was added when the bridal party was piped from the vestry and down the aisle of the church by Miss Blythe, in her Scottish kilt, in the old Scottish custom. The wedding banquet was held at Paul's Hotel, the tables beautifully decorated with yellow and white 'mums. Following the banquet the guests returned to "Gazeway", the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's mother wore cinnamon brown crepe suit with black accessories and corsage of roses. The groom's mother was attired in a soft blue wool suit with black accessories and wore Talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Ball left by motor for an extended trip to the States. On their return, they will reside in Meaford.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Gordon Bartlett, Walkerville, Ont.; Mrs. Ernest Zeron, Riverside, Ont.; Mrs. R. Cavanaugh, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Morrison, Mr. Geo. McCann, Mr. and Mrs. R. ## FORMER LOCAL GIRL MARRIES AT SUDBURY

St. Andrew's United church, Sudbury, was the scene of a pretty autumn wedding recently when Shirley Marguerite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tate, 276 Wembley Dr., Sudbury, formerly of Sharon, and Mr. James Douglas McAlary, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Burton M. McAlary, Sussex, New Brunswick, were united in marriage. The church was colorful with tall standards of 'mums in autumn hues and spikes of gladioli decorated the altar, with white satin roping garlanded from the standards of fern. Rev. James A. Terry officiated. Mrs. F. C. Fraser was organist and Miss Shirley Cavanaugh sang "The Lord's Prayer and O Perfect Love."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in an original gown of French ivory

petal velvet with decollete of pearls. Made on classic design, the gown featured wing epaulettes hipline with the low basque sweeping into a bouffant skirt and train. Her full-length rose-point heirloom veil had panels of delicate embroidery and was fashioned with a dainty lace cap caught to her head with a spray of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of butterfly roses.

Miss Jacqueline Tate, Toronto, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, Miss Phyllis Jardine, Toronto, and Miss Thelma Blaney, Sudbury, were bridesmaids. They were gowned alike in emerald green, rio linto rust and guineau gold, styled with soft, low decollete, with the collars forming brief cap sleeves. The moulded bodices swept into panier hiplines, with the full skirts draped with side epaulettes falling to the floor. They carried nosegays of autumn flowers and wore velvet calots and elbow-length mittens. Mr. Kenneth Gardner, Sudbury, was best man and ushers were Messrs. John Cannon, Reynolds Goodwin, Toronto, cousins of the bride, and E. McAlary, Sussex, N.B., brother of the groom.

The reception was held at the Copper Cliff club where the bride's mother received in a gown of imported Parchemin Chantilly lace with model off-face hat and shoulder spray of roses. The groom's mother assisted in a hyacinth blue crepe frock with maroon accessories, sable cape and corsage of roses. For a motor trip to Montreal and the eastern United States, the bride chose an emerald green original suit with matching accessories and shoulder spray of orchids. The bride holds a master degree in psychology from the University of Toronto and a bachelor of science degree from the University of Western Ontario. The groom holds a degree in geology and has returned to the University of Toronto to work for his master degree in geology. Among the guests from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Goodwin and Mr. and Mrs. R. Goodwin, Holland Landing, Mr. and Mrs. J. Tate, Sutton. Other guests were present from Sussex, Kingston, Toronto, London, Pittsburgh, Ottawa, Richmond Hill, North Bay and Powassan.

23 Leaders Attend W.I. Homemakers School Learn About Wool Uses

A training school for leaders of Homemaking clubs in York county was held October 30 and 31 in the board room of the department of agriculture, Newmarket. The training school is sponsored by the Women's Institute branch of the department of agriculture and leadership was given for the new fall project, "Working with Wool". Twenty-three leaders, representing 12 clubs, were present.

Mrs. Marion Montgomery, Toronto, and Miss Ruth Hunt, home economist for York county, were in charge of the school and instruction was given in the organization of homemaking clubs in communities, as well as practical instruction in the choice and care of woollen material. Every step in the construction of a wool skirt was shown.

The leaders will now organize local clubs in their community of girls between the ages of 12 and 26 and a series of meetings will be held where the girls will learn what wool is; how to know it from other fabrics; how to choose the material and how to handle and press it. Each girl will make a skirt, with a weskit if she wishes or a jumper. She will also learn something about choosing the color and design of the material and how to use a pattern as she does so. When she has completed her work, each girl will exhibit at and participate in an achievement day held in the spring.

The following leaders attended: Mrs. E. Phillips, Mrs. D. Davis, Temperanceville; Mrs. W. Kydd, Miss Phyllis Pegg, Belhaven; Mrs. I. Rose, Miss Ida Bertolin, Union Street; Mrs. E. Harrington, Mrs. S. Wheeler, Unionville; Miss V. Arnold, Mrs. D. Woodrow, Virginia;

YOUNG HOPEFULS BY DOROTHY MUIR BOWMAN

Too much Talk Of Janie's Bite Made A Habit Overnight

Janie, five years old, bites when she is expressing extreme displeasure.

Some children resort to hitting or kicking, others to pinching or scratching, some to spitting, throwing things or biting as a means of self defense. Although none of these responses are to be condoned, there is usually an underlying reason for them. Once the reason is known, the business of eliminating the undesirable responses is facilitated.

Perhaps in Janie's instance, biting would have been just a passing stage—except for the fact that an issue was made of it. Janie's first offense in biting was given minimum attention by her parents and would probably have ended there except that the child who was bitten kept reminding Janie, the bitten child's parents became incensed and the neighborhood started a talking campaign.

The attention Janie received over the biting might have been responsible for her resorting to this form of self-defense on the second and third occasions. Now she seems to bite as a matter of habit.

For punishment, Janie's parents have bitten her hard enough for her to be aware of the hurt she is inflicting. Janie has also been isolated for a period of time so she knows her biting doesn't bring approval rewards.

(The parents of a little boy, who resorted to biting, told him that only dogs bit and tied him to the kitchen stove with a bowl of bread and milk for his supper. It was a family secret for years but the boy was cured immediately as a result of the impressive experience.)

Janie might be offered a reward if she resists her next inclination to bite. She might even be taught to say "I could bite you, but I won't—I'd rather have a chocolate bar." That would relieve her tensions; and, at the same time, she would be truly deserving of a reward for self-control.

COLOR IS THE MOST important single factor in interior decoration. With color you can change four bare walls into a charming, vibrant room. You can create such illusions as height and depth through emphasizing certain colors or combinations of colors. With a knowledge of the controlled use of color you have magic at your fingertips.

You know, there are really no do's and don'ts governing what colors you may combine. The most important thing is to know how to combine them under given conditions. You don't have to restrict yourself to certain colors but you do have to understand what results to expect from your color choices.

Let's talk about one phase of room colors that is quite important. A room in your home may be so separated from other rooms of the house that it may be considered as a separate unit. In that case you don't have to consider the color schemes of the neighbouring rooms. However many rooms open directly upon one another such as an archway separating living room and dinette or an open hall connecting living room and dining room. Rooms such as these require color linking for a pleasant color continuity.

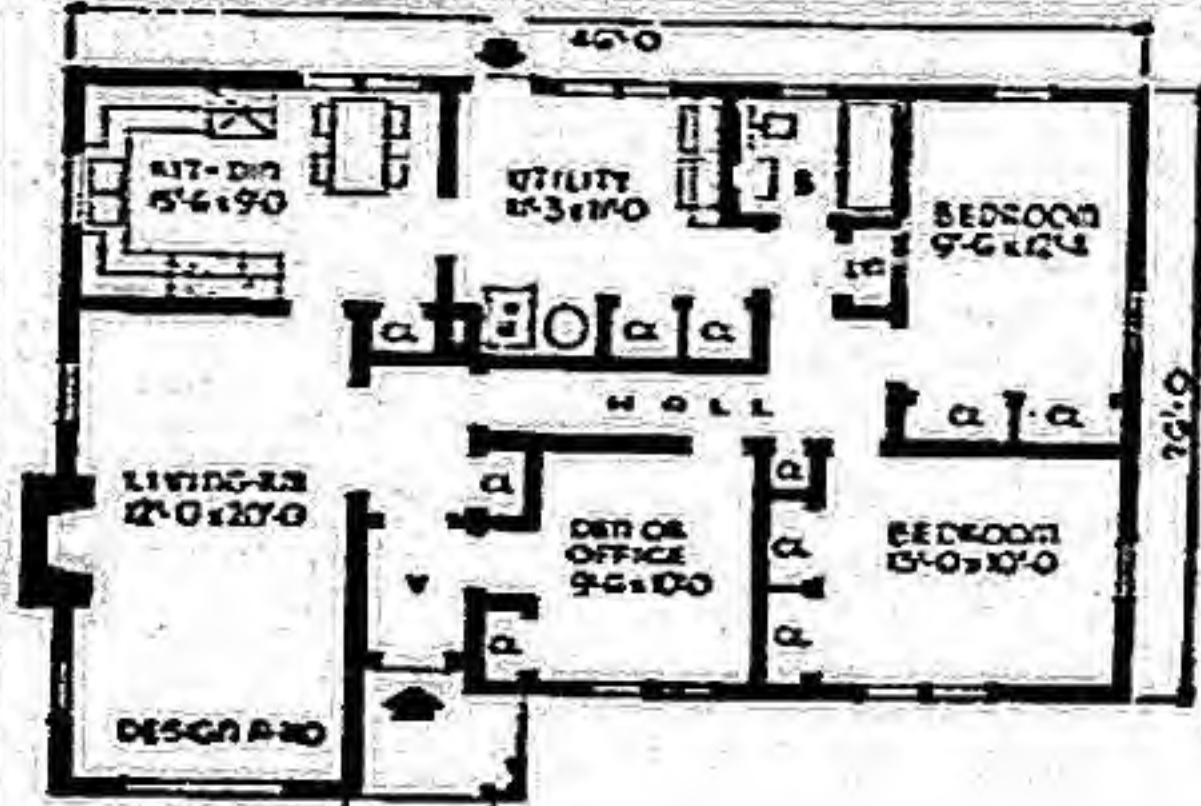

You can link one room to another by using a common color factor. This can be done by using the same scheme, but with different variations in pattern and fabrics. Or you can repeat one color note throughout, adding different notes of emphasis in each room. When using the same color background, you can vary the effect by using a floral wallpaper for one room and a striped paper for another.

paper of the same colors for the next. There are many such ideas you can use and you will enjoy working out your own variations. Color may even be added to such rooms as the kitchen and bathroom, which, not so long ago, were predominantly white. The attractive guest towels pictured above are worked in colors to accent the bathroom color plan. The designs on these towels are known as Swedish Darning and are, as their name implies, darned into the towels in symmetrical patterns using gay colors of embroidery threads. Very effective they are, and sure to draw many "oh's" and "ah's" from your guests. The directions for these SWEDISH DARNING GUEST TOWELS are available to you if you send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Dept. of this magazine for one room and a striped paper asking for Leaflet No. PE-4858.
